FANWOOD

On Wednesday, October 10th, at two P.M., a meeting of the Board of Directors was held at the Board Room of the City Bank Farmers Trust Company, 22 William Street, at which the following members were present: Major Francis G. Landon, President; Messrs. Joseph R. Barr, Louis F. Bishop, Sr., Louis F. Bishop, Jr., Laurent C. Deming, F. A. de Peyster, C. Gouverneur, Hoffman, William M. V. Hoffman, William W. Hoffman, Philip Hiss, Aymar Johnson, Robert McC. Marsh, John D. Peabody, E. Pennington Pearson, Arden M. Robbins, John S. Rogers, Jr., and Bronson Winthrop; also Superintendent Skyberg and Steward Davis.

Columbus Day was a legal holiday and coming on a Friday, made a good week-end vacation, and quite a few took advantage of the opportunity to make extended trips. Another opportunity was to hasten the work on the boys study room. Quite a number of the cadets elected to remain and strip off the metal ceiling and then remove the old plaster that was applied years ago. The job was completed in a day, and the mess of plaster cleaned up, and all was in readiness before school opened again, so another group of boys could start in nailing up the wooden boards, on which the metal ceiling will be replaced.

The new folder of school recesses for the 1934-35 year is now out. Recesses will be on the following dates:—

Thanksgiving — Leave Tuesday afternoon, November 27th, at 4 o'clock. Return Monday morning, December 3d, at 10 o'clock.

Christmas — Leave Friday afternoon, December 21st, at 4 o'clock. Return Wednesday morning, January 2d, at 10 o'clock.

Spring Vacation — Leave Friday afternoon, April 12th, at 4 o'clock. Return Tuesday morning, April 23d, at 10 o'clock.

The legal holidays are: Columbus Day, October 12th; Election Day, November 6th; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12th; Washington's Birthday, February 22d; Memorial Day, May 30th.

Visiting Hours are: Week Days, 4 to 5 o'clock P.M. only. Saturdays, 1 to 5 o'clock P.M. only. No Sunday visiting.

Upon request of parents, pupils may leave the School at 8 A.M. Saturdays—returning on Sunday afternoon.

In spite of the heavy rain on Saturday, the 6th, Dr. and Mrs. Nies took the Misses Otis, Bost and Berry in their car to Hyde Park, N. Y., which is about six miles beyond Poughkeepsie. On arriving there it was discovered that the rain had ceased.

Mrs. James Roosevelt, the mother of the President of the United States, had opened her house and grounds for the benefit of the Gallaudet Home, of which Board she is a member. In the hall was a very fine life-sized bronze bust of President Roosevelt as a young man.

There were fancy articles, candy, cake, fruit, and flowers for sale and at half past three the dining-room was thrown open and tea, coffee and cakes were served to the guests. Mrs. Roosevelt poured the coffee and was most gracious to all as they were presented to her.

The estate is comprised of a thousand acres and is beautifully situated above the Hudson River. There are fine views of the country from the house, which is called the Summer White House.

On Thursday, October 11th, Miss Mary G. McCormick, Supervisor of Health Teaching, State Department of Education, Albany, visited us, having dinner in the pupils' dining-room with Miss Young, our dietitian. Miss McCormick expressed herself as highly pleased with her inspection.

The first contact of pupils with the new site purchased by the school was made Monday last when a group of older boys went to White Plains and spent the day clearing away the grass and weeds on the tract.

Dr. and Mrs. Fox spent the week-end on top of the Catskills at Windham, N. Y. Miss Judge went to the foothills at West Saugerties, N. Y.

An Appeal

My father, the Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, D.D., L.H.D., realizing the necessity of caring for old and destitute deaf-mutes, rented a house in East 13th Street, New York City, for that purpose, and, after a few years of intensive and personal canvassing, was enabled to purchase, in 1885, an estate situated on the Hudson River between New Hamburg and Poughkeepsie. Here, in a handsome brick and stone edifice, on a property of one hundred acres, the Gallaudet Home furnishes a retreat for twenty-five old people, some of whom are not only deaf and dumb, but blind as well.

The location is a beautiful one, and a farm which is part of the property, furnishes milk, eggs and and fresh vegetables for the use of the residents at the Home.

The residents of the Home are of several religious denominations and come from various parts of the State of New York, although the Home is under the management of the Church Mission to Deaf-Mutes.

The Endowment Fund of this institution is invested in mortgages on property in the City of New York, but, due to the condition of real estate at the present time, the income of the Home has been so reduced that it finds itself confronted with a serious financial situation. Every economy possible has been effected, but now the Board of Trustees and the Board of Lady Managers have before them the problem of how to keep the Home in operation. To our minds it is unthinkable that we should give it up and take away the sole retreat of these people in their old age. For that reason we are trying to raise a fund of $50,000.00 to tide us over these times of stress.

Will you not help us to keep the Home in existence? Please send your gifts to me, or if you prefer, to Frederick H. Meeder, Treasurer, Room 700, 466 Lexington Avenue, New York City.

Yours sincerely,

ELIZABETH F. GALLAUDET
60 West 68th Street,
New York City

Notice

Mr. Fenderson's overture was lost on the deaf of the audience, but much enjoyed by those who could hear. The opening was a novelty skit featured by a slow motion fight which was amazingly well timed. The Adelman-Goldstein dance specialty was well executed. "The Husband's Ruse," proved an excellent vehicle for the dramatic abilities of its principals, especially George Lynch. The closing scene of the first part of the program was a comic skit which ended with the teacher and pupils in convulsions when Sam Block stepped off the dunce's stool to put a mouse down the neck of "teecher" while he was leading the class in their daily dozen; the audience was in convulsions, too—of laughter.

Another well-executed dance act opened the second half of the program. The dramatic hit of the evening was "A Night in Chinatown." Mr. Romero, as Wang-Lo, showed that his acting abilities are not confined to comedy; Mrs. Jaffe played up excellently to Mr. Romero's superb acting; and the surprise ending came as a climax to a most intense scene. Mrs. Jaffe dropped her serious role in the next scene and stole the show as the embarrassed wife of Lester ("Wallace Beery") Cohen. Mr. Lynch's recitation was featured by sound effects from a drum backstage, a most effective rendition. In the next to last scene, Mr. Funk kept the audience chuckling with a running fire of jokes rendered in his inimitable style. The last scene brought back the days of Chaplin (Mr. Romero) and the Keystone cops. Mr. Romero's gags were the old sure-fire bits from Chaplin's time and they were as well executed. A custard pie gag, with Lester Cohen heroically on the receiving end, was the "wow" bit of the show.

Mr. Romero was the outstanding actor of the cast. His acting was well-nigh perfect in every scene, from his Chaplin slapstick to his dramatic Wang-Lo. He was ably supported in his comedy bits by Sam Block and Lester Cohen, who played the thankless but difficult roles of stooges. Mrs. Jaffe was also outstanding; her change from the serious role of Sadie to pure comedy in the next scene was an indication of wide ability on the stage. Mr. Lynch's clear and graceful signs were a pleasant feature of each scene in which he appeared. Mr. Funk was excellent in what parts he took, as were all the other members of the cast.

The most amazing part of the whole show was the precision and smoothness with which it was run-off. This near-professional smoothness is all the more remarkable considering the need for each principal actor to appear in two, or three or more scenes, sometimes in adjacent ones.

Mrs. Roslyn Jaffe was the recipient of a lovely bouquet after her appearance in "A Night in Chinatown"; some practical joker also sent a floral offering to funnymen Sam Block, who received it with much eclat. Verbal bouquets are due all the participants in the show, for they put on a good program and cheerfully underwent all the inconveniences and nervous strain contingent thereto. Henry Stein, Jr., did a meticulously perfect job of handling the props. Edgar Bloom and Malvina Balacaier, lobby manager and head usher, and their corps of assistants did their jobs well. All in all, it was a great show and well received.

The next Guild show will come off early in December, according to the program. The Play and Theatre committees are even now hard at work choosing plays, casting and attending to all the preliminary details of what they hope will be an even better show than their maiden effort.

H. A. D.

Sunday evening, October 7th, was "Open House Gathering" night at the Community Centre. It was well attended. From eight till a little after eleven the members and their friends enjoyed themselves in this manner. Upon adjournment they left with the feeling that they had a fine time, and, undoubtedly, a few (?) of them chuckled to themselves, because of the numerous "fish" stories that they told.

At the opening Friday Evening Services, October 12th, Rabbi Harry Gutman delivered a lecture on "The Jewish Attitude Toward Women," and was "listened" to attentively by a surprisingly large crowd, as the services in the past had been hardly attended. Next Friday, the 19th, Charles Joselow will speak on "The Cohesion of a Race."

The opening Business Meeting will be held on Sunday, October 21st, at 3 P.M. Important business will be transacted and announcements of great interest will be made. All members are urgently requested to be present and push the good work along. In the evening at 8 o'clock, a movie program will be shown.

Female members, especially of the younger set, desiring to join the choir of the H. A. D. at services held at the Community Centre every Friday evening, are kindly requested to see Miss Eva Segal, chairlady of the Choir Committee.

The Wednesday evening gym activities opened last October 10th with a bang. Thirteen girls reported to Coach Kruger for the initial basketball practice of the season.

PHILADELPHIA

A distinguished visitor to our fair city on Monday evening, October 8th, was Mr. Arthur L. Roberts, Grand President of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf. Mr. Roberts is on a swing around the Eastern and Southern Divisions of the United States, and Philadelphia was one of his stopping places. Leaving Pittsburgh early Monday morning it was not until 9 o'clock in the evening that Mr. Roberts drove his Ford V-8 in front of the Ben Franklin Hotel, where a host of officers and members of the Philadelphia Division were awaiting him. After registering at the hotel and with a quick change of clothes, he was whisked away to the Silent Athletic Club, where a large delegation of the deaf were patiently awaiting him. Once there Mr. Roberts gave some remarks about his trip and dwelt on details of the running of the Home Office in Chicago. Later questions were fired at him which he obligingly answered in his own inimitable way. Eats and drinks were served and at the conclusion of same, he was taken back to the Ben Franklin for a greatly needed rest after the long auto ride from Pittsburgh. Some time the next morning he left for Baltimore, the next stop on his route. In company with him was a young fellow, a Mr. Vaughan, of Chicago, whom Mr. Roberts referred to as his road guide and sign post reader.

The last meeting of the Philadelphia Division, N. F. S. D., was greatly enlivened at its conclusion with a debate dealing with the subject, "Should A Man Marry?" Mr. James Foster and Mr. Alex McGhee, both married men, were the affirmative team, while the negative side was bravely held up by Messrs. John A. Roach and Joseph V. Donahue, two confirmed bachelors. According to the amount of laughter greeting each speaker's remarks it was voted a hilarious success, with the judges, Messrs. Frank Kuhn, Eugene A. Kier and Morton Rosenfeld, voting the affirmative side the winners. Mr. Morton Rosenfeld kindly rendered a declamation, "Ten Little Niggers," in signs, at the conclusion of the debate.

While the World Series were in progress every day there could be found a group of from ten to twenty deaf persons witnessing the magnetic scoreboard outside of the Evening Bulletin Building. Louis DiChicchio, a rabid Detroit rooster, after betting everything but the shirt on his back, is a very much broken man these days, especially in his pants pockets.

Two new owners of automobiles in Philly are Messrs. John E. Dunner and LeRoy Gerhardt. John has purchased a Ford coupe after having been graduated from the Dooner Driving School for Automobiles. Mr. Gerhardt has purchased a brand new 1934 Plymouth sedan and in the meantime has picked up a lot of girl friends.

On Thursday, October 4th, the North Philadelphia Convocation of the Episcopal Church met at All Souls' Church for the Deaf. This group of hearing clergy and prominent laymen of the church meets only four times a year and it was an unusual privilege to have it at All Souls'. Over four hundred persons attended the sessions of the Convocation proper, held in the Church, with the Ladies' Aid meeting in the Parish House.

Bishop Taft, Diocesan of Pennsylvania, who arrived from Europe the day before, was present and delivered an address outlining his experiences, particularly in Russia, where he was told that America was in ruins and Americans were starving.

In the evening the people of All Souls' served dinner to 175 of the delegates at a banquet presided over by the Bishop.

After dinner the delegates were entertained by All Souls' vested choir, Mesdames Rothmund, Mock, Allen and Long, with beautiful sign renditions of two popular hymns. Mrs. B. P. Aiken accompanied orally, while her daughter, Bernice, played the piano.

Afterward the Rev. H. J. Pulver, Vicar of All Souls', gave an address outlining the service the church performs for the deaf and a historical sketch of movements for the education and advancements of the deaf.

This Convocation was so well impressed with All Souls' that several of the churches voluntarily promised to aid financially. All in all, it was a most successful gathering.

The Rev. Georg Almo is a guest at All Souls'. It is expected that arrangements will be made for him in the near future to study for the Episcopal ministry. Meanwhile he is getting practical experience at All Souls'.

Mrs. Edith Akear, of Reading, formerly of Florida, was recently a guest of Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Pulver. She remained for church services on Sunday. She is a friend of Mrs. Pulver, who knew her when she was at Galaudet College ten years ago.

P. S. D. went down to her first gridiron defeat of the year last Saturday, October 13th, when the powerful Audubon H. S. eleven, with a record of eighteen straight wins over a two-year stretch, managed to lower the schoolboys' colors to the tune of 13 to 0. No alibis are offered as the better team won. Both of the touchdowns were the result of forward passes, a weapon that the schoolboys have always been weak against. P. S. D. has been sadly weakened in the backfield, with the quarterback being declared ineligible because of age and with Quigley out for the remainder of the season with a badly wrenched ankle. The next home game will be with the Alumni on October 27th.

Mr. Carl Fragin, of Wilmington, Del., underwent an operation for the removal of his tonsils at the Delaware Hospital on October 1st. He was confined there for a day and to his house for a week before going back to his position as a linotype operator on the Sunday Star. Mrs. Fragin, herself not feeling any too well, managed to see that her husband got special care.

The Silent Athletic Club Ball Masque is just around the corner, November 3d, to be exact. Everything is being getting ready for the gala affair to make it the splendid attraction it is noted for. For further details consult advertisement elsewhere in this JOURNAL. F.

Syracuse, N. Y.

Jesse Howard Kenyon, aged 65, departed this life on October 9th, in a hospital near Utica, after having suffered from cancer and a paralytic stroke, which he had several years ago. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Grace Faulkner Kenyon, and two hearing sisters to mourn his demise. Educated at the Rome school, he later worked at the Morris Locomotive Works at Baldwinsville, where he was held in the highest esteem. The funeral was held at the home, an Episcopalian hearing minister officiating, assisted by Rev. H. C. Merrill. Later the remains were laid to rest beside his parents in a beautiful Oswego cemetery. Among those to attend the funeral were Messrs. L. D. Huffstatter, of Clayton; I. Lynch, of Liverpool; W. Wright, of Rome; Fred Keller, of Syracuse; Rev. and Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Geo. Root and Mrs. Albert Eaton, of Syracuse, and Mrs. Anna Lashwood, of Rome. The many beautiful floral offerings attested to the high respect in which the deceased was held.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sears, of Syracuse, motored to Binghamton on October 11th and visited for several days with relatives of Mrs. Sears.

Mr. L. D. Huffstatter, who conducts a souvenir and novelty store at Clayton, N. Y., expects to spend the winter in Tupper Lake, manufacturing novelties for his summer trade. He spent a short time in Syracuse on his way home from the Kenyon funeral.

The Syracuse local papers had a write-up of a divorce trial in court between Mrs. Angeline Benson, of Syracuse, vs. Irving Benson, of Gloversville, on October 9th. The decree was granted.

J. Fred Keller had the misfortune to injure his feet while battling with a fire at the Keller-Pabst summer home on the Seneca River near Baldwinsville. Fortunately, the fire was extinguished before it did much material damage.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to Miss B. Edgar, 56 Latta Ave., Columbus, O.

The Columbus Advance Society will sponsor a Husking Bee on October 20th at the Ohio Home. The big barn will be well lighted and in it will come most of the fun of the husking after the real work is done. Mr. Warren Shafer, so large no one can lose him, will be the boss of the affair. A good time is anticipated by many of the Columbus deaf.

A convention of physicians brought hundreds of doctors into Columbus last week, and among them was Dr. Roberts, a former teacher at the Ohio School more than forty years ago. He also taught in the Kansas School. He is now a practicing physician at Wilmington, Ohio. The doctor, recalling former days here, was, no doubt, greatly surprised to see the many changes. He found among the teachers a few of his former pupils, who were indeed glad to again meet him.

Mr. Elbert Redington, aged 86, passed away suddenly last Sunday at the Ohio Home. He was taken with a stroke shortly after shaving himself and never regained consciousness after stricken. He had been a resident at the Home for a few years. His sister, Mrs. Hines, is also there. At the request of a daughter, the remains were sent to be interred in a family plot.

Mrs. Jesse Inman (Lizzie Neal), of Columbus, reports the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Neal, in Toledo last summer. Mrs. Neal, as Jesse Ketcham, attended the Ohio School, and it was there she became acquainted with Mr. Neal. After leaving school, she was employed for two years by the late Dr. J. W. Jones, as cook in the superintendent's apartment. She was much liked by all who knew her.

Going to the Ohio State University is getting to be quite a fad among the deaf employed at the school. Mr. Israel Cosen, Mr. Jesse Inman and Mr. Warren Shafer all took the six weeks' course in Industrial Arts during the summer, and now Arthur Anderson, Mr. Everett Kennedy, Mr. Philip Holdren and Miss Kathryn Buster are registered in the Freshman Class of the university. We suspect Miss Buster has taken a course in cooking or home management!

Mr. and Mrs. Max C. Crittenden (Minnie Bleckman), of Detroit, announce on October 1st the birth of a son, Jerry Bleckman Crittenden. Mrs. Crittenden attended the Ohio School.

When Mr. Earl Mather came to Columbus last week, he brought with him his brother, Earnest, to be a guest of the Zells. Both took in the Indiana-Ohio State football game October 6th, and saw the Indiana team beaten 33 to 0, which disgusted them, as they thought their home team was a strong one. They also took in the Little Series game between the Columbus "Red Birds" and the Toronto team.

Mr. Earnest Mather seldom gets time to come this way, and the games and other treats, such as a visit to the Columbus airport, were much enjoyed, and he took back to Richmond, Ind., pleasant memories of his Columbus friends.

Mr. Warren Shafer, the School's teacher of painting, while standing on a ladder picking cherries in early summer, fell fifteen feet with the ladder and broke a small bone in his left wrist. Fortunately, he could keep up his work with his right hand. Mr. Shafer is a large, heavy person and should beware of weak ladders.

Ohio friends of Mrs. Leo Walter (Fannie Kells) were sorry to learn of her accident, which happened near the club house for the deaf of Minneapolis and St. Paul, September 23d. The car driven by Mr. Walter was struck by another, and Mrs. Walter received a bad gash right over her right eye, and was badly shaken up in the collision.

Mr. Elmer Harer, who graduated from the Ohio School in 1928, is living on a farm near Bucyrus, and last week found time to take a look at the school. He is glad that he studied carpentry in his school days, as what he learned is of much help to him on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bender are coming from Cincinnati on the 13th to be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Jacobson over Sunday for a general "talk-fest."

Mrs. Earl Mather is going to Richmond on the 12th, and the next day she will accompany Mr. Mather to Indianapolis to attend a meeting of the board of managers of the Indiana Home, of which Mr. Mather is a member.

Here is some good news. At last we have a field agent for Ohio, and the one selected for that office is Mr. Taylor, the former carpenter at the school. Now we are on a level with Minnesota and North Carolina. Surely we progress.

Mrs. Clark, of Toledo, has been the guest of Mrs. Evans, of Columbus. Last Sunday Mrs. Clark was taken to the Home by Mrs. Walter Wark. It has been some years since she had been in Columbus. E.

Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. Leo Cylka, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., gave a bedroom shower at the home of Mrs. C. Jerge recently in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sallazzo. Mrs. Sallazzo was formerly Miss Genevieve Close. Both these young people are of Buffalo and also the St. Mary's School for the Deaf of Buffalo. Mrs. Jerge also, of Buffalo, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sallazzo with a variety shower.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Manke and Mr. and Mrs. T. Hunt were visitors in Cleveland, O., and New York City recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Conners, of Dunkirk, N. Y., have been gladdened by the arrival of a baby boy. Mr. Conners is of Buffalo.

Mrs. Mamie Steinbach and Miss Josephine Mead, of Buffalo, were the week-end guests of Miss Sarah Bernstein, of Rochester, recently. While there they attended the Rochester Frats' social.

On November 9th, at 7:30, at the Food Craft Shoppe, the Buffalo Frats will give a supper and card social. Please remember the date and come.

The Kicuwa Club has started the eighth year of its most successful activity. The first meeting of the year is being held at club rooms on Mohawk Street. The new officers for the year were installed by former president Mrs. Albert Ode. Mrs. Hubert Bromwich is the new president, Miss Catherine Lehman vice-president, Mrs. Walter Carl secretary, Gladys Grover treasurer. Anyone wishing to visit the club may do so the first and third Wednesday evenings of each month.

Mr. Albert Ode, who has been ill for some time, is somewhat improved and able to be about again.

Mrs. Hubert Grover and children, Doris, Geraldene and John, left last week to join her husband in New Haven, Conn., where they expect to make their future home. G. G.

PENNSYLVANIA

Miss Pauline Lackner, of Beaver Falls, is home again after a visit to the Chicago Fair. She reports having had a grand time there.

The Mercer County Fair drew a lot of the nearby deaf during the Labor Day holidays. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Basil Canon, of Stoneboro. So also were Mr. and Mr. Jack Stanton, of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Stanton was the former Miss Piel, of Sandy Lake, which accounts for the Santons being up in Mercer County.

The large barn on the farm of Glenn E. Amon, at Polk, was struck by lightning during a heavy electrical storm last July. Beyond the blackening the paint in the immediate vicinity of the lightning rods, no damage was done. We congratulate him on his good luck.

On Labor Day Titusville commemorated the first oil well drilled by Colonel Drake, about a mile outside the city limits, at what is now Drake Park. A parade two miles long was one of the high lights of the celebration. Many of the deaf from Franklin, Oil City, and vicinity attended the affair. Among them was Mrs. Leone Schoch, of Oil City, who was the guest of Miss Margaret Claypoole, of Titusville. And the Alexander Shoups, of Franklin, took the William J. Gibsons, of Pittsburgh, to see the spectacle.

The Basil Canons, of Stoneboro, held a weiner roast on their dairy farm on September 15th, that was attended by fifteen of the local deaf from Franklin and Oil City. All report having had a good time.

Lester V. Mather, of Ridgeway, has been so busy with his painting and paperhanging contracts that he had John Johnson, of Franklin, up for eight weeks during the summer, to help with the house-painting jobs. At present, Mr. Johnson is assisting on the farm of Albert Hogenmiller at Emlenton, cutting the corn.

Miss Magdalen Dugan, formerly of Franklin, has moved to East Liverpool, Ohio, where she has secured a position in a pottery plant.

Congratulations to Mrs. Bessie Postlethwaite, of Sandy Lake! She is the first deaf grandmother in the Franklin-Oil City region. A 6½-pound baby boy was born to her son and his wife on September 20th. The boy has been named Dickie Allen.

J. H. Scribner has been painting the properties of Ovid Cohen, of Erie, located at 1024-1028 State Street, that city. A printer by trade, Mr. Scribner has been otherwise unemployed for a long time. And Leo Granahan likewise is doing odd jobs for Mr. Cohen.

Another Erie resident who helped to wile away unemployed hours by painting is Wallace Hicks, son of Dr. Hicks, the osteopathic physician. He painted his own home. On September 20th-22d he was a visitor in Pittsburgh, unsuccessfully hunting for a job.

But not all the deaf of Erie are out of work. For instance, Miss Kathleen Schmidt has just secured a steady position with the Lovell Wringer Co. Her father is a foreman in the plant, which may explain a lot.

And Rinhart Fritzges, of North Girard, is now employed in a local cemetery there. But by trade he is a cooper.

For the story of a hair-raising experience, we refer you to Miss Bertha Thorpe, of Harbor Creek. In company with a few friends, she went camping in the shores of Lake Erie last summer. She had her own tent, camping cot, etc. And one of her pastimes was to lie at ease on the cot with a book to read and a box of cakes under the cot, at which to nibble. The lakeshore region is not especially famous for its wild and predatory animals. But see what happened to Bertha: she retired on her camp cot for the night. Outside it was a glorious moonlit night. Presently the tent flap moved and fluttered, and into the tent stalked a wild animal that would cause even an African hunter to tremble. Straight into the box of cakes under the cot he dived, and—yeah, it was a skunk!

The lakeshore region around Erie is now in the midst of its grape harvesting. Visitors to the region are always impressed at the spectacle of miles and miles of rich vineyards. Concord grapes are the variety most often met with. It may not be generally known that the harvesting of the grape crop must wait until the vinters give the word. Expert wine-makers study the crop daily, and at just the right time the word is given, and the grapes are picked and rushed to the wineries, to be fermented into choice wines. If the grapes are picked too soon, or too late, the delicate vintage of the resulting wine is spoiled.

Farther inland from the shore of the lake, the chief agricultural crop seems to be cabbages, and acres upon acres of the "heady crop" are conspicuous from the highways. The crop is destined to become sour kraut. Whether the vintage of the kraut is as temperamental as the grape crop, we don't know. And we don't care; kraut is kraut. In fact, it never quite succeeded in becoming even "liberty cabbage."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Green, of Erie, and Mr. and Mrs. Rinhart Fritzges, of North Girard, motored together in the latter's car to visit John L. Friend on his farm at Volant, last summer. Mr. Friend still teaches the printing trade at the Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, while his two sons run the farm.

The Erie deaf staged an all-day picnic on the farm of Miss Bertha Thorpe at Harbor Creek, last July. About 30 of the deaf attended.

After living on Mechanic Street for 19 years, Gus M. Fahnestock, of Muncy, has moved to a new address in the same town. We suspect the new domicile is nearer to his favorite trout stream and bass lake. His tailoring establishment, however, is still located at the same address on the town's main street, and on September 26th he celebrated his first anniversary in the present location. Besides doing cleaning, pressing and repairing, he has the agency for J. L. Taylor & Co.'s custom tailored clothes. He states business is improving.

Mrs. Elizabeth Longenberger, of Nisbet, celebrated her seventy-sixth birthday on September 24th. Otherwise in good health, she is suffering from a cataract of both eyes. Her right eye is most affected, and she will probably undergo an operation for the removal of the cataract, some time in October.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hart, of Williamsport; Mrs. Lottie Robbins, and Harry Longenberger, of Nisbet, recently took a motor trip to Altoona. While there they were guests of the George H. Curtins.

Mrs. Harry Longenberger, accompanied by her daughter, Sallie, spent several weeks at Lonaconing, Md., as guests of the former's sister. They returned to Nisbet on September 1st.

The Harry L. Coulstons, with their son, Thomas, motored to Philadelphia, where they spent a week as the guests of Mr. Coulston's sister at Clifton Heights. They returned home September 9th, with the exception of Thomas, who is now a pupil in Wisconsin Hall, Mt. Airy.

Miss Mary Gorman visited the George Ponesmiths at Williamsport last summer, an almost immediately took ill with a severe attack of asthma, that confined her to bed for two weeks. She is now visiting relatives at Pittsburgh.

Sergeant Raymond Miller, U. S. Army, was home in Williamsport to visit his mother, Mrs. Louis Berger. He remained from August 8th to July 14th, when he was obliged to return to Blacksburg, Va., where he is an instructor of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Harry L. Coullston, of Nisbet, decided last spring to try his hand at raising chickens. To that end he constructed a home-made brooder in his yard, out of odds and ends of discarded junk. It worked. In fact, it worked extremely well. All told, only nine eggs failed to hatch out successfully. Now he is the pleased possessor of a flock of over 150 sturdy Rhode Island reds and white rocks. Mrs. Coulston now goes to market every Saturday, and sells broilers. They expects to keep the pullets for egg laying. This is just another little instance of how to meet the unemployment situation.

But if Coulston is a wizard at constructing brooders, he evidently not enjoy the same luck at remodeling decrepit Chevrolts. Leastwise, when he was coming home from his Philadelphia trip last month, his car developed a cracked piston. (And no wonder, it had already gone through a fire, and other catastrophes on former occasions!) By the time he reached Sunbury, the Chevy was making an infernal din, that brought all the townsmen out of doors on the run to see if a new kind of fire engine had arrived. But Coulston is stone deaf anyhow, and the racket did not in the least disturb him. Bravely he guided his snorting, screeching Chevy onward. He got as far as Muncy, when it finally expired with a gasp that sounded like a rivet hammer. Oh yes, a garage mechanic got the car to run again, after honing 3-16 of an inch off the cylinder wall of the cracked piston. Coulston now has a remarkable Chev, with five cylinders of standard dimensions, and the sixth as big as a Rolls Royce. But why worry, says he, if it runs?

ALTHOUGH somewhat hindered by the fact of deafness, those of us so occasionally bothered are in no worse position than many who are suffering from more trying impediments. As is the case of all people, whether the deaf are happy or otherwise is dependent mainly upon themselves. Most of them are blessed with a liberal education, to which is added the valuable training in some useful trade upon which they can expect means of livelihood when their school term is completed. It thus rests upon the graduates of our schools to make the most of their opportunities and, having secured a position, to stick to it and render the best service possible.

They should try to keep abreast of events; go out into the world using speech, if they are able, if not then resorting to pencil and pad; to see and be seen, getting in contact with all kinds of people, so increasing self-improvement and becoming broad-minded. This in connection with their own social life, after working periods with the hearing, enables them to enjoy life and build up healthy constitutions. They should keep in mind, however, that their hearing friends are often busy with their own affairs, and at such times should not be expected to give particular attention to other interests. This does not necessarily mean indifference, and should not lead the deaf to imagine that they are considered a nuisance. If the deaf expect consideration from others, they themselves should be careful that, in seeking the companionship of hearing friends they do so on such occasions when they are certain not to interfere with other plans of their friends. As far as possible they should mingle freely with their families and relatives and keep in touch with the hearing world. Above all, in their spare moments, they should make it a rule to read books as well as newspapers as a means of improving their use and understanding of language.

THAT the deaf are appreciated when fully understood may be gleaned from the subjoined, a clipping from an article dealing with the experiences of a football coach:—

"I think that one speech stands out in his mind more than the rest. Once he made a speech at a football smoker held by a school for the deaf and dumb. One of the boys stood beside him on the platform, and after each sentence relayed the words to the crowd by a rapid wagging of his fingers in deaf-and-dumb sign language. Bill says that that night he had a tough time getting the words to flow. He stood there looking down at them, and saw them looking up at him with their eyes all bright and interested and attentive, and he felt all choked up. Out of the corner of his eye he could see his interpreter's fingers going like mad. And once in a while after those nimble fingers had completed a paragraph, the crowd would applaud. Then somehow he got going and made the best speech of his life."—Saturday Evening Post, September 22, 1934.

GALLAUDET COLLEGE

By Felix Kowalewski

The first Y. W. C. A. vesper service of the year was held in the co-eds' reading room on the evening of October 6th. The following program, under the direction of Miss Iva Weisbrod, was presented:

Hymn: "A Last Prayer" Thelma Ott, '36
Short talks:
"How to be Interesting" Hazel Davis, '38
"Agreeableness" Marie Goetter, '35
"How to Keep Friends" Verna Thompson, '37
Playlet: "The Promise of a Son to Sarah" Abraham Leora Ottaway, '36
Sarah Lucy Lucado, '35
Hagar Bertha Marshall, '38
Hymn: "Nearer My God to Thee" Edna Paananen, Georgiana Krepela, Alice Lusk, '37.
Prayer Iva Weisbrod, '36

Two extra lectures were added to the Orientation series during the last week. On Tuesday evening, Mr. Clark, Professor of Psychology at George Washington University, gave a very interesting talk on the psychological traits of the average student. On Thursday evening, we were honored with a visit from Mr. Arthur L. Robers, '04, and he was pressed to give a talk to the new students in Chapel Hall. But the entire student body turned out to hear him, and were royally entertained with a snappy talk on making the best of opportunity.

On Friday evening, since most of the co-eds had gone to Vacation Lodge, and there was nothing else on schedule, the Prep boys gave a play for the benefit of the male stay-at-homes. There were plenty of laughs, and several new names have been added to the list of talented actors of the Dramatic Club.

The co-eds, who remained at home over the week-end, gave a small party in the reading room of Fowler Hall, after sending invitations to an equal number of the boys. The evening was spent in playing games of all sorts, and there was plenty of fun. Prizes were awarded to the winners, one of which was a weine labelled as a Mexican Hairless Dog. Refreshments of fruit jell-o and cookies were served. The co-eds avoided an otherwise dull Saturday evening by having a spread in one of their rooms.

Friday afternoon was just another ideal summer day when the co-eds left for Vacation Lodge. Bathing suits and thin summer clothing were used, but the other co-eds, who remained at home, are wondering how they stood the sudden cold snap that started on Saturday morning, when the mercury went down to thirty-six. The dry-goods stores on Aitch Street will have a rush order for extra hankies on Monday.

Mrs. Nelson Parks, who was connected with the Normal staff here a few years ago, and also taught in the Kendall School and the South Carolina School, was a visitor here on Wednesday morning. She was stopping over on her way back to Mexico, where she resides with her husband. She gave a very interesting talk on the customs and everyday doings of Villa's people.

A gamely fighting Buff and Blue eleven went down in defeat, by 51 to 0, at the hands of a powerful Washington College eleven, on Saturday afternoon, October 13th. From the start of the game, the Chestertown warriors kept up a hammering march towards the goal line that left the Blues tottering. But it was evident that our team was far outclassed, the Washington team being rated alongside such well-known elevens as those of George Washington University and Catholic University. The only high spot of the game for our boys was when Conley Akin snatched a Washington pass and plunged and hurtled down the field for fifty-five yards before he was stopped five yards short of a touchdown. On the second down and with three yards to go, the final whistle blew. Berry and Greims starred for the victors, while Robert Miller and Norman Brown stopped most of the battering attacks of the black and violet. Race Drake, Alfred Hoffmeister, and Conley Akin kept up the morale of the team with their dogged persistence in the backfield. The score by quarters was:

Washington College	12	13	13	13	51

However, our boys are not discouraged, the seemingly overwhelming defeat has only given them more of the "Go-in-and-fight" spirit, and Bridgewater is due to come out on the loser's side of the football results column in this Saturday's papers. Come on, fellows, get together and do something about your blocking and interference, then surprise the crowd when you go down to Virginia this Saturday.

The Literary Society wishes to announce the following program for Friday evening, the 19th: Talk (Speaker to be announced later); Declamation—John Vogt, '37; Dialogue—Jimmy Ellerhorst, '38, L. Ritter, P. C.; Declamation—Anthony Nogosek, P.C. The deaf of Washington and vicinity are invited to attend.

The Rats held a funeral last week for a brother rodent. The fortunate animal was buried in the corn field that borders on Hotchkiss Field. The Rev. Anthony Nogosek, P.C., delivered the funeral oration that forever rid the poor body from further torments by the Frosh.

Portland, Oregon

Miss Zelma Barell left Portland, July 14th, taking the Portland Rose Train of the Union Pacific. A few of her friends were at the depot to wish her Godspeed on her long journey as her train pulled out at 9:35 P.M. She said her train changed at Laramie, Col., Monday following, arriving at Denver at 10 A.M., where she was met by Rev. and Mrs. Homer Grace, missionary for the Episcopal Church for the Deaf of Colorado, and their daughter. Miss Barell was taken for a ride around Denver, where she saw beautiful parks and other scenery, but she regretted that she could not see the high mountain on account of fog. Mrs. Grace invited her to a fine lunch and she enjoyed her brief visit with the Grace family. That same day they took her to the depot at 4 P.M. She went to her Pullman, and was surprised that the colored porter could talk to her by the sign-language. Seating herself comfortably reading, she got scared of lighting, but the porter comforted her. Tuesday morning she arrived in Kansas City, where a friend met her, spending five days there. She was glad to get away, on account of the terrible heat. Leaving she arrived at St. Louis, where she waited 2½ hours, then left for New York City, arriving 7:30 P.M., Sunday, going direct to N. A. D. headquarters where she took in the convention, and was much pleased to meet so many deaf people. After the close of the convention, Miss Barell was a very busy person, visiting relatives and many dates with the deaf of New York for one week. On August 6th, she left New York for Pittsburgh, where she was the guest of the Canters for two weeks. She thought Pittsburgh was too smoky, and saw very many bridges there. On August 15th, a reception in her honor was given at the Canter home, ending with ice-cream and cookies. It was another wonderful time. August 20th, she left for Chicago, the guest of the Shawls for three days, also taking in the World's Fair, seeing many interesting things there. After three days an agent of the Northwestern Railroad called for her at the Shawl apartment, taking her to the depot, where she left for the Wild West, as she calls it, but her "Home, Sweet Home." Arriving in Portland, she was met by her folks, who were glad to see her safely back after such a long and wonderful trip. She was tanned some. She said she really had such a wonderful time she misses New York and Chicago. On Monday following her arrival she went back to her place of employment at the big Muir & Franks Department Store, where many eagerly questioned her regarding her trip. Mrs. Bertram, of Seattle, Wash., passed through Portland recently on her way to Salem, where she spent a week with Prof. and Mrs. T. A. Lindstrom. During her stop in Portland, she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reichle, where a few of her friends called on her. Returning from Salem, Mrs. Bertram again stopped at the Reichle home for a couple of days, meeting friends. She made her trip with her daughter in an auto.

Mrs. Otis Collins, of Bay City, Ore., and Miss Thetta McPeck, of Eugene, Ore., were united in marriage on September 8th. They are both former pupils of the Salem deaf school. They may make their home in North Carolina later.

Mr. Lloyd Hudson, of Alkton, Ore., had an accident recently, by falling in some manner, from a building, injuring an arm, but after an examination it was found no bones were broken. He will be all right soon, and resume his work.

A surprise wedding shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wondrack was given at their apartment recently, and they were presented with many lovely and useful gifts. Games were played, and the event ended with good eats, such as cold meat, sandwiches, salads, St. Nicholas cake and coffee. A fine time was had by all. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Linde, Mr. and Mrs. Amann, Mr. and Mrs. H. Greenwood, Mrs. Emma Webber, Mr. D. Tatreau and Miss Zelma Barell.

Another party was given in honor of the newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. F. Wondrack, this time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cooke. More gifts were given the couple, to their surprise. Good eats were served, and all had a good time.

Mr. H. Schmitke, of South Dakota, was a visitor in Portland during first week of October. He took in the service at the Hope Lutheran Church for the Deaf on Sunday, October 7th, accompanied by his cousins.

HAMILTON

On Saturday, 6th October, the members of the Literary and Social Club spent a very pleasant evening in the Parish Hall of All Saints Church, when Mr. John T. Shilton, of Toronto, was the guest-speaker of the evening.

Mr. Shilton related the story of "The Springfield Fox," one of the interesting nature stories by Alfred Seton Thompson, followed by the beautiful love romance of "Romeo and Juliet" from the Shakespearian play of that name.

Mr. Shilton speaks in a most graphic and interesting manner, which holds the rapt attention of his audience.

The meeting ended with the serving of light refreshments provided by the lady members of the club.

On Sunday, Mr. Shilton conducted the service in Centenary Church and gave a most inspiring sermon appropriate for Thanksgiving Sunday, using the 136th Psalm as his text and reading from I Thessalonians 5:18, and Ephesians 5:20.

Mr. Shilton stressed the fact that all good things came from God and that we should thank Him, not only in words, but from our hearts.

As is usual at Mr. Shilton's services, there was a very good attendance, nearly all the Hamilton deaf being present.

Among those attending from outside points were Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, of Cookstown; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Patterson, Galt; Mr. and Mrs. Peel, Copetown; Mr. Randall, Paris; Mr. Bell, St. Thomas; Mr. Forsythe, Elmira; Mr. Batstone, Galt; Mr. Black, Kitchener, and Mr. Albert Siess, Pontiac, Mich.

Mr. Joseph Taylor has been appointed treasurer for the Convention fund and is already making a beginning.

Miss Winifred Breen spent Thanksgiving week-end with friends in Galt and had a very nice time there.

Mrs. Fretz, Mrs. Taylor's mother, has been spending a week with relatives in Toronto.

Mr. Ready has been successful in obtaining work here as a tailor's helper. He only left school in June last, so is very fortunate in getting a job so soon.

Mr. Jack Harrison and Mr. Jim Matthews are both studying linotyping—the former at the Westdale Technical School and the latter at the Hamilton "Tec."

The Hamilton Association of the Deaf wish to extend their sincere sympathy to Mr. Frank Baumgart and family upon the death of Mrs. Baumgart on 3d October, and also with the family of the late Mrs. Hoy, who passed away on the second of October.

KITCHENER, ONT.

On Saturday afternoon, September 15th, a very pretty wedding took place at three o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Egremont Street, when the Rev. Robert Millar united in marriage Ruth Thompson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Boulding, and George F. McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCullough, of Palmerston.

To the strains of the wedding music played by Mrs. Arthur Staubitz, the bride was escorted to her place beneath an arch of autumn flowers and was given away by her father. She was charming in a gown of organdy trimmed maize crepe and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and anemones.

Following a wedding luncheon, the young couple left by motor for Montreal, the bride travelling in a brown tweed ensemble with matching accessories. On their return they will reside in Palmerston.

About 21 of the deaf attended Mr. Terrell's service here on Sunday, 7th October. Among those present were

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Nahrgang, of Speedville; Mrs. Margaret Nahrgang, Miss Iva Hughes, Woodstock; Mr. Pepper, London; Mr. Hoy and Mr. W. Quinlan, Stratford, and Mr. Charles Ryan, Woodstock.

All the deaf here, with the exception of Mrs. Williams are now employed. All the local factories are reported to be busy.

Mr. Albert Siess drove Mr. Newton Black and Mr. John Forsythe out to the Nahrgang's place on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. L. B. Moynihan went to Bridgeport on Sunday to dine with friends, but returned for Mr. Terrell's service in the afternoon. Mrs. Moynihan was also invited out to dinner on Thanksgiving day, with friends in Waterloo. Two turkey dinners on consecutive days—preceded by a chunk of Mrs. McCullough's wedding cake!—We hope Mrs. Moynihan lives to tell the story.

GENERAL NEWS

We regret to report two deaths among the deaf in one week.

Mrs. Robert Hoy, who resided on a farm near Stratford, Ont., passed away on October 2d.

Mrs. Frank F. Baumgart died in the Brantford General Hospital, on 3d October. Mrs. Baumgart became very ill after eating a poisonous variety of mushrooms and was removed to the hospital on September 25th. Some of the other members of the family, who had partaken of the mushrooms, also became ill, but made satisfactory recoveries.

The greatest care should be taken when buying or picking mushrooms, as some kinds of poisonous toadstools are so like mushrooms that only experts can tell the difference.

Miss Iva Hughes and Mr. Charles Ryan, of Woodstock, were the guests of Mrs. Margaret Nahrgang for Thanksgiving day.

On Wednesday, 3d October, Miss Elizabeth Carter, of Guelph, Ont., became the bride of Mr. Alfred Penprase.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Penprase are starting a chicken farm and we wish them the best of luck in their undertaking and all happiness and prosperity in their married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Paterson, of Galt, have now removed to a house nearer to Mr. Patterson's work, and find it more convenient and comfortable. A. M. ADAM.

Florida Flashes

The second son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright, living in Tampa, is nursing a most serious injury that befell to his hands and arms. According to particulars obtainable, he was playing in the house at the time of accident and a live wire being within his reach he grabbed it, with the result that he could not shake the hold off, and it was some time before help came to him. Had the voltage been of full strength, he might have been electrocuted. He is receiving congratulations of his little friends on his miraculous escape.

If David Tillinghast, who arrived in St. Petersburg on September 8th from the Carolinas for his annual winter stay with his married daughter Malinda, rounds out one hundred years, he will have witnessed a century of progress, even though he missed it at the Chicago exposition. Just now he is about seven years short of the coveted goal of longevity, and for his age he is remarkably active physically and mentally.

Bent on deep-sea fishing, Messrs. Phillip Ficarotta, Angelo Camello, Gervasio Puro and Gorham Wright, all of Tampa, left on Labor Day for Clearwater. Their prowess as anglers is testified to by their having caught 35 big fish. They have been telling their friends a glowing account of the "Fun a Fishin'" that they have had.

Tonsils and adenoids have been removed from the anatomy of Miss Reba Blackwelder, of St. Petersburg, and she feels a heap better.

Albany, N. Y.

Taken entirely unawares of what awaited, Mrs. Charles Morris came to Mrs. Wall's house on September 22d, to attend what was announced as a card party, only to be faced with a large company of friends and a basket filled to the brim with assorted pretty gifts, presented to her in remembrance of her birthday from those present. A nice course of refreshments followed, which was heartily enjoyed by all. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. Mendall, Mr. and Mrs. Spivak, Mr. and Mrs. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. Geith, Mr. and Mrs. Corrigan. R. S.

An Overrated Man

The fact that America is a very big country never becomes so impressive as when one has travelled two thousand miles due west, and still find the prairie stretching out before him. The Washington Star gives an instance of the manner in which the size of the country impressed a young Englishman, the valet of an English nobleman.

They saw numerous seaboard cities, tarried for a time in Pittsburgh, in Chicago and in Kansas City, and then struck out into the great West. The train was delayed at a small station, and the passengers got out to stretch their legs, among them his lordship and James, the valet, who seemed in a brown study. "What's the matter?" asked his master.

"I was just thinking, my lord," said James, "that Columbus didn't do such a big thing when he discovered this country, after all's said and done. 'How could he help?'"

Judge Sylvester Sabbatino will be the guest speaker at the Friday evening service of the Brooklyn Hebrew Society of the Deaf at the H. E. S. Building at Sutter and Hopkinson Avenues, Brooklyn, New York, on October 19th, 1934. His topic will be court delinquency. Mrs. Belle Blumenthal will interpret in the sign language. Many of the deaf attend these services. Judge Sabbatino is quite a favorite with this group and they are looking forward to hearing him speak. These services are sponsored by National Council of Jewish Women, Brooklyn Section, of which Mrs. Mortimer Brenner is president, and Mrs. Albert D. Schanzer will act as chairman of the evening and introduce the speaker.

Mr. Henry Frey, a graduate of Fanwood School, celebrated his eightieth birthday on September 26th. He entered Fanwood 1865 and graduated in 1872. He was under both principals, Harvey Prindle Peet and Isaac Lewis Peet. He is a widower, but has three children, who are all married—a son and two daughters.

Miss Hermina Ehrlich, oldest sister of Katie Ehrlich, passed away on Friday, October 5th, after an extended illness. Besides Katie, she is survived by her 90-year-old mother, four other sisters and two brothers. The funeral services were held on Sunday, October 7th, at the Riverside Memorial Church, and interment took place at the Ferncliffe Cemetery, Westchester, N. Y.

Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Beuermann returned to the city Thursday last after a week at Patchogue, L. I., with their son, Herbert, who is Long Island representative of the Brooklyn Eagle. Their daughter Beatrice and her husband expect to leave for Seattle, Wash., next January, where the latter has been appointed head surgeon at a hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel I. Bashein are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl on September 29th.

Mrs. Rita Davis Hoffman was married last month to Mr. Daniel Aellis.

Convention of the North Carolina Association of the Deaf

The North Carolina Association of the Deaf held its twelfth biennial convention in High Point, N. C., from August 30th to September 1st, 1934. The best hotel, the Sheraton Hotel, was the headquarters. The convention was made up of deaf people from all parts of the State and visitors from other states. The North Carolina deaf were very glad to have them and hope they will come again. One of them said he did not have a chance to go to "sleep" at the meetings. The convention had a very able interpreter, Mr. James Fortune, of Durham, N. C. His signs and finger spelling were so clear anyone could almost see the words sail through the air.

There were some hearing people present and many of them were loud in praise of the deaf as law-abiding citizens of North Carolina. Thursday, August 30th, saw a good crowd present, but by Saturday, September 1st, there were about 150 or more present. The best news about the convention was that it lacked one thing—the presence of "old man depression." Everyone had happy faces with broad smiles and a ready glad handshake. The attitude and temper of the members towards matters brought up for discussion was generally good, even though there were minor differences of opinions. It seemed like these clashes and lightning exchanges of opinions put more life in the convention. Judging from what was done it seems that a new record was set in handling of more business matters. This shows that the North Carolina deaf are in no mood to permit deafness to carry them backwards. They are aware of their rights as taxpayers, law-abiding and God-fearing citizens of the great state of North Carolina. Regardless of the difference of opinions among the members, constructive business was the object in view and these will be found mentioned elsewhere in this write-up. The members behaved splendidly throughout the convention and won high praise from the citizens of High Point. All the hearing speakers had some very kind words to say about the deaf. A better description of what was done can be found classified below.

THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST 30TH.

The convention was called to order by the President at 7:30 P.M., at which time it was formally opened. The Invocation was given by Rev. R. C. Fortune. The beautiful hymn "America" was given in signs by Mrs. Carl Foster. Address of Welcome was given by the Mayor, Mr. C. S. Grayson, of High Point, N. C. He welcomed the convention to his city and certainly did make each one feel happy to be there. He spoke highly of the deaf citizens of his city, classing them as law-abiding and industrious citizens, ranking with the hearing people in many things. He gave the audience his best wishes for a pleasant stay in the city and said that the citizens of his city had a very tender spot in its heart for the deaf.

Greetings in behalf of the deaf citizens of the city were given by Mrs. S. L. York. Her greetings were brief and appropriate, to the point and everyone appreciated her kind words.

Response was given by Mr. Harley C. Brendall, who quoted a short and appropriate story, along with words of heartfelt thanks for the splendid welcome extended the association by the Mayor.

A very interesting address was given by Senator-elect, John T. Burrus. He praised the deaf as honest and law-abiding citizens and for their part in contributing to the upbuilding of their communities. He compared the deaf with the hearing and pointed out a very pleasant fact which brought on great applause from the audience. He said there was a very low percentage of criminals among the deaf, and he made some comparisons of the efficiencies of the deaf who are minus two of the most important senses, with those who had all five of them.

Greetings from the South Carolina deaf were brought to us by Mr. Raymond Glover. He also amused the audience when he spoke of his first experience with the sales tax of North Carolina. Here's hoping he will come again and leave some more of his "coppers" here to sprout. Mr. E. McK. Goodwin brought greetings from the State School for the Deaf at Morganton, N. C.

The appointments of committees and announcements were next in order after which the meeting adjourned.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 31ST

The Invocation was given by Rev. W. A. Lamb. The old North State song was beautifully ended by Mrs. R. C. Fortune of Durham, N. C.

The Secretary, Mrs. G. H. Bailey, read the minutes of the last meeting, which were accepted.

The President's address was next in order. He recited some history of the deaf in the nation and state. He made some suggestions as to what the deaf should do, and reminded us of our duty to cooperate with the various organizations of the deaf.

The address of Mr. E. McK. Goodwin, superintendent of the school for the deaf at Morganton, N. C., was next. As usual, he recited some history of the work that had been done and will be done for the educational and industrial welfare of the deaf at the school. He also spoke of the various needs, especially larger appropriations for the school in all its various departments and expressed hope that these needs will be granted in the future.

After a few announcements the meeting adjourned, due to the fact that the maker of the motion to adjourn "had a stomach that was barking for a bone."

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, AUGUST 31ST

The audience had the pleasure of listening to an interesting address by Hon. Guy B. Phillips, President of the N. C. Educational Association and Superintendent of the City schools at Greensboro, N. C. He spoke of the past and future work of the N. C. Educational Association in bring about better pay facilities for the education of the people of the State. In the course of his address he pleased the audience immensely, as evident from the loud applause when he lauded the aims of our association in bettering the conditions of the deaf. He also let it be known that he endorsed the recommendations of our association.

Next came the address of Mr. W. M. Shuford, superintendent of the Junior Orphanage at Lexington, N. C., and a member of the Board of Directors of the School for the Deaf at Morganton. He spoke of some things that the Board of Directors of the school will do to see that the deaf of the State receive their just due in the educational and industrial departments of their school.

The Legislative Committee' chairman gave the committee's report as to what it claimed it had done since the last convention. The President then inquired as to what was to be done about the report. One of the members made a motion to have the part relative to the saving of the Bureau of Labor for the deaf from being abolished at the last session of the State Legislature, removed on the grounds that it was not worded right. After some clashes of opinions and presentations of facts, it was finally decided to have it rewritten to conform to the work of the Save-the-Bureau committee instead of the Legislative Committee.

Several of the other committees made their reports and then new business was next in order, but due to lack of time, it was decided to put this over to the business session to be held Saturday morning.

The Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions read the resolutions and they were generally accepted. (Since these resolutions have been printed in the Deaf Carolinian with some change and additions in the wording and tone, made by certain parties without authority, but regardless of this they are given below as printed in said paper):—

WHEREAS, This the 12th biennial convention of the North Carolina Association of the Deaf, has been a successful and profitable meeting, tending to result in better educational advantages for future deaf citizenship and

WHEREAS, There have been many parties and individuals who have contributed to the said success, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the thanks of the Convention be extended to—

1. The officers of the association for their untiring efforts for the splendid program and its successful carrying out.
2. To the management of Hotel Sheraton for its courtesies and endeavors to make our stay here very pleasant.
3. To the Mayor and other hospitable citizens of High Point for the cordial welcome extended us, and to Dr. John I. Burrus for his words of praise and encouragement, and to Hon. Guy B. Phillips for the address full of inspiration, and to Dr. E. McK. Goodwin and to Mr. W. M. Shuford for their addresses which testified to their continued interest in our welfare.
4. To the Local Committee whose painstaking efforts have made possible this wonderful convention.

5. To Mr. Hall, of Barker-Hall Printing Company, and Mr. C. H. Rhodes, of the Rhodes Press, High Point, for their courtesy and generosity in coming to the aid of an unforeseen difficulty—the printing of ribbons for the convention.

6. To Mr. James Fortune for his able services as interpreter.

7. To the Deaf Carolinian for generous space in its columns devoted to the interest of the deaf of the State and to J. M. Vestal for utilizing this space in writing news-items of interest to the deaf at large.

WHEREAS, The North Carolina School for the Deaf at Morganton, has for the past four years gone through a handicapped struggle for proper training for the deaf children through inadequate funds, and

WHEREAS, An alarming number of our teachers trained for our highly specialized work are constantly leaving us for better paid positions elsewhere therefore, resulting in deaf students being deprived of their proper due in life, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the deaf citizens of the State, appeal to the forthcoming Legislature for careful and just consideration of the school's needs, and

WHEREAS, The North Carolina Legislature of 1933 saw fit to continue our State Bureau of Labor for the Deaf, and

WHEREAS, Our present director, J. M. Vestal, has amply justified the faith of said Legislature in the able discharge of his duties, in his tireless efforts in finding neglected deaf children not in school, and in his manifested loyal cooperation with the North Carolina School for the Deaf at Morganton, N. C., be it

Resolved, That the convention goes on record as asking the forth coming Legislature to increase the appropriation of the Bureau of Labor for the Deaf, so that it may branch out and serve still a greater field of usefulness.

WHEREAS, We have seen the wonderful benefits of the hearing students of the State acquire from higher education, and the wholesome atmosphere resulting therefrom as affecting the students, their careers, and the life of the students' respective communities, and

WHEREAS, The North Carolina School for the Deaf at Morganton, where only a little better than an elementary education is provided for and that limitation having the inevitable effect of creating a sort of inferiority complex, said inevitable effect being due solely to the lack of beneficial atmosphere as created by higher or high school education, and

WHEREAS, Many graduates of the North Carolina School for the Deaf, desiring higher education, and having to go outside of the State for it, many not having the means to do so, thus going without educational benefits as given the hearing students of the State of North Carolina, therefore be it

Resolved, That the North Carolina School for the Deaf at Morganton be granted sufficient appropriations for a higher curriculum—a four-year high school course such as is provided for the hearing students of the State, and be it also

Resolved, That the deaf acquire the same vocational education in the State as is given the hearing public with funds supplied by the Federal government, inasmuch as the State has taken over the education of all of its children, and be it

Resolved, That sufficient funds be provided for any needy students desiring a college education at Gallaudet College, Washington, D. C., the only college for the higher education of the deaf in the world.

WHEREAS, Our beloved superintendent and benefactor, Dr. E. McK. Goodwin, will, in the Fall of 1935, have completed half a century of labor and love among the deaf, his work being identified with the lives of two thousand deaf persons in this and other States, and his influence on the educational work being nation-wide, therefore be it

Resolved, That the North Carolina Association wishes to express its desire to join the Alumni Association of the North Carolina School for the Deaf in a great homecoming reunion during the Fall of 1935, at the school he founded back in 1894, to celebrate this occasion.

WHEREAS, It was the will of God that Mrs. Maude Goodwin, the beloved companion of our lifelong friend and superintendent of our Alma Mater, Dr. E. McK. Goodwin, be called Home.

Be it resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of the convention goes out to Dr. Goodwin and their daughters.

Resolved, That the thanks of the association be extended to the following persons for their help in rescuing the Bureau of Labor for the Deaf from abolition during the last Legislative session: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Fortune, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Miller, Mr. R. C. Miller, Miss Jessie Uzzell, Mr. O. G. Carrell, Mrs. N. B. Watkins, Mr. Charles C. Vestal, and Mr. W. A. Seawell.

Resolved, That the North Carolina Association of the Deaf heartily endorse the work the Dixie Association of the Deaf has been doing in maintaining the Home for the Aged Deaf at Moultrie, Fla., and pledge its cooperation to the fullest extent.

FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 31ST

A reception was held in the ballroom of the hotel. There the members filled up with punch, cake and brick ice-cream. Next came the man of magic. He certainly did hold the audience's attention with those clever tricks. There was plenty of laughing and handclapping. Movies were next. They showed pictures of our school, some of its buildings and various persons and things. It was a pleasure to see our old school again.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 1ST

The Invocation was rendered by Rev. R. C. Fortune. This was followed by new business. Motions were made and passed to have an amendment fixed to our bureau of labor bill; amendments to our constitution and by-laws; the appointment of a law committee to revise the constitution and by-laws.

The election of officers was next in order, and the following were elected as officers for the next two years: Sam L. York of High Point, President; E. C. Smoak, also of High Point, First Vice-President; Mrs. R. C. Fortune of Durham, Second Vice-President; Chas. C. Vestal, Secretary; John Dermott of Durham, Treasurer; and Joseph M. Bird of Bryson City, Financial Secretary.

The place of the next meeting was referred to the Executive Committee, due to a tentative place suggested in one of the resolutions.

The "new" President, Mr. York, appointed the following members to serve on the Legislative Committee: J. M. Robertson, Chas. C. Vestal and George H. Bailey of Raleigh, W. R. Hackney of Charlotte, and Rev. R. C. Fortune, of Durham.

"God Be With You Till We Meet Again" was beautifully sung in signs by Mrs. M. G. Carter of Charlotte. Then the convention adjourned sine die.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

There was a Frat Rally for the men, while the women assembled in the ballroom of the hotel for a social chat, and were served brick ice-cream. No doubt, the men were glad they were given "soft bricks."

SATURDAY EVENING

The banquet was held in the ballroom of the hotel and was largely attended. It marked the end of the 12th biennial convention. There was one great and pleasant talk made by the manager of the hotel about the deaf. He said that he had been in the hotel business for nineteen years and had entertained many conventions. In comparing these with the convention of the deaf, he had found that the deaf were the most orderly and happiest crowd he had ever seen and that he was ready and willing to welcome the deaf to the hotel again.

The next day was Sunday and a few visitors remained for the regular Sunday School held in the morning for the deaf of High Point and vicinity.

Detroit Dots

By Mrs. C. C. Colby

I came to Detroit from Chicago in time to attend the regular business meeting of the Detroit Chapter, Michigan Association of the Deaf, which was held at Gerow's Hall "A," third floor, 333 Grand River Avenue, West, Friday evening, September 14th, with Daniel Whitehead, presiding. Mrs. Behrendt was secretary. About two hundred attended. Important matters concerning the new Home for Aged Deaf came up for consideration.

It is likely that the deaf residents of Michigan must get a "Home," for there are several aged deaf in Michigan, who are destitute and need watchful care.

Robert Valentine, a product of the Michigan School, and a native of Michigan, was granted a Lay-Reader's license recently, to assist Rev. H. B. Waters. Mr. Jones has been assisting St. John's Ephphatha Episcopal Mission for over eight years. He talks well and can hear some, and is a good interpreter for the deaf.

The Heide home has been remodelled and a stone front porch and steps for a broad stairway have been built.

A wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. MacLachlan was celebrated on Friday, September 14th, from 1:30 to 6:30 at their cozy home. Their close friends were invited to enjoy the wedding festival. Tales of old times were related, while they played the "Pedro" game. At 7:30, all accompanied the happy couple to attend the M. A. D. meeting.

Mrs. Grace Hasenstab Haskell, the oldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Philip Hasenstab, of Chicago, is living in Royal Oak, Mich., with her husband and three children. They moved there from Chicago last spring. The deaf residents of Royal Oak are kindly asked to meet them.

Mr. Crawford, an instructor at the Flint School, was a visitor in the city during the second week of September. He is a pleasant gentleman to chat with.

Thos. J. Kenney and wife are living on Cherrylawn Avenue, which house Tom built years ago. It has a spacious living-porch, which their friends enjoy most.

The Detroit Division, No. 2, N. F. S. D., will hold a variety social on October 20th in the C. A. D. club-rooms. Exhibition contests will be held. Thos. J. Kenney is chairman. It is promised that Messrs. Bristol and the Tripp, the big guns of Flint, will be there to push it over the top. The entertainments given by the Frats are always excellent.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Buby, of Royal Oak, gave a pot-luck supper on September 16th. About twenty friends enjoyed the "eats." Odd games were indulged in and the prizes were baskets of vegetables, which were all raised in the Buby's garden.

The Detroit Association of the Deaf has several nice new card tables. The monthly card parties given by the boys and girls are always most enjoyable affairs.

The Cordano family, of St. Joseph, Mich., spent a week-end with the Ben Beaver family in the city. Little Cordano is now a pupil at the Flint School.

Detroit has several pretty hearing daughters of deaf parents. Among them are Miss May and Misses Piatt.

The meetings of St. John's Ladies' League will hereafter be held at the Parish House of St. John's Church on Montcalm Street, every second Friday of each month.

The meetings and services of St. Mary's Hospital on September 16th were well attended. Father Higgins conducted the services in a pleasant manner.

The Flint Social Club has moved to a better hall on Saginaw Street.

Mrs. Milton Holm, a lively little lady, who spent about a month sojourning on the Canadian side of Lake Erie, has returned home, relating what a delightful time she had on her trip.

Mrs. Gus Engel, who had an accident some years ago, making her an invalid, is now able to walk. She is an enthusiastic "Pedro" player.

The Geo. Davies' pretty niece, Miss Betty Wilson, of Pennsylvania, who spent a few weeks with them, has returned home.

I had the pleasure of meeting Miss Alice Ramsey, of Auburn, Ind., who has been visiting with her sister.

Mrs. Ida Perry is doing well in this city. She had a pleasant surprise when she accidentally met her old schoolmate from Toledo, Ohio, whom she had not seen since they left the Ohio school years ago.

Saw a happy couple on the street car on their way to Lansing. They were Rudolph Huhn and his bride (Mrs. Hattie O'Neil Polk).

Two charming sisters, Mrs. Sadows and Mrs. Riberdy, who live near each other, are seen together continuously.

Roy Lynch and his ever-charming wife are settled at home in Detroit once again, after several weeks on joyous trips.

A big reception with open arms greeted Rev. Father Kaufman, who reached his home in Detroit recently. He has been away visiting his birthplace in Germany.

Friends of sixty strong surprised Mrs. Wm. Behrendt at her cozy home with loads of "eats" in honor of her annual natal day. A gift of their love and esteem was a modern breakfast-set of table and chairs.

John Moore, the old resident of Detroit, is still under medical care at Eloise Hospital.

F. E. Thorniley and his pretty bride are still at Niagara Falls.

After the I. A. D. convention in Chicago, we went to Oak Park, Ill., to call on Mrs. Louis Huff (Matilda Gottschalg). Her only son was married last spring. Their neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sharpnack, are their constant visitors.

We visited the John Gottschalg family in Joliet, Ill. Mrs. Gottschalg (Kate O'Connell) is a product of the Jacksonville School. She left with the writer her renewal subscription to the JOURNAL.

We called on Miss Mary MacDonald at the home of her sister in Joliet. She was still under the care of a physician and is to have another operation. Her leg was broken in an automobile accident last spring.

Mrs. Julius Krafft (Agnes Sartori) is still living in Joliet. Her husband, Julius Gaber, died last spring. He was 74 and was a product of the Pennsylvania School. He came to Joliet 54 years ago from Pennsylvania and was employed at Bates Machine Co. for 42 years.

After mailing this letter, I will pack my grips for dear Capital City.

Goodbye, dear old Detroit, until next Spring.

MRS. C. C. COLBY.

SEATTLE

Last night there was, as usual, a good attendance at the Delegate Fund social by the N. F. S. D. A pleasant time was had playing new games and cards and enjoying refreshments. Chairman J. Bodley and Messrs. Brown and Koberstein were the committee and will continue two more months.

Holger Jensen, of Olympia, brought Mr. and Mrs. Burget and Miss Norman, of Tacoma, to the gathering.

Mrs. Gustin and Mrs. E. Eaton enjoyed a boat ride to Tacoma, where they spent a few days at the comfortable apartment of Mrs. Eaton's sister. They called on several friends and attended the Fellowship's social given by our sister city, September 29th. Mrs. Gustin took first prize in "500." The other Seattle visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Garrison.

J. T. Bodley and Arthur Martin went to Camano Island to improve a large tract Dr. Winkel has purchased on the shore of the Sound. Dr. Winkel is physician for several of the deaf.

Mrs. Fred Wise, who came from Colorado with her husband recently, was given a little shower at Mrs. Cookson's home last Friday by about a dozen ladies.

Claire Reeves is improving in his health as well as his little farm, where most of his time is occupied. He brought home an apple-box full of English walnuts, gathered from his backyard.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weaver and three children, of Ellensburg, motored to Renton for a three days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams. While doing a little business in Seattle, the friends dropped in at the apartment of Mrs. Editha Ziegler, who was Mr. Weaver's old classmate. The Weavers and Adamses drove to Puyallup to take in the agricultural fair.

Instead of going to Minnesota as reported, Mrs. Josie Carlson came to Seattle and secured employment at a suit and bag factory. She was greatly surprised and pleased to receive numerous gifts.

Mrs. Sophia Brinkman became homesick and took a train from St. Paul, arriving home safely after several weeks' stay with her sister. She says after all, there is no place like the Charmed Land in the Puget Sound country.

Our old friend, Lawrence Belser, of Wenatchee, lost his mother by death, September 24th, after a long siege of illness.

The father of Mrs. Rolph and Mrs. Ed. Martin passed away September 23d in Yakima. The girls attended the funeral, as did Jack Seipp, of Chicago. He accompanied his sisters to Seattle for a short visit before returning East. Mrs. Rolph and Mrs. Martin saw their father a week previous to his death.

Mrs. Ziegler's son, Herbert, is back from the Yakima apple orchards, looking healthier.

It has been lonesome at the Wright's home since their grandson, Jean, left for Hessian Hill's School on the Hudson River near New York. His mother wrote of Russia as the land of contradiction everywhere, though much improvement is in progress. Dressed in the clothes of beggars, the people are eager, intelligent, with rosy visions for the future. The operas are the best, and they have preserved a great deal of the art and culture of old Russia.

Often these families live in four-room apartments, and countless wild, orphaned children still roam the streets day and night. Mrs. Boutyette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wright, was fortunate in having a car and chauffeur from the Embassy at her disposal, so she independently went sightseeing. Except for the historical background, Europe has nothing to offer to surpass the natural beauties of the Western Coast.

The Auxiliary of the Illinois Home for the Aged Deaf held its annual meeting October 4th. New officers were elected for the year: Mrs. Arthur Meehan, President, and Mrs. Anton Tanzar, Treasurer. Mesdames E. E. Carlson and Ruth Dunn will take their turn to run a meeting at the home in November.

Rev. J. Hasenstab and Mrs. Constance Elmes attended the annual Conference (Rock River) of Methodist preachers and laymen at Sycamore, Ill., this week. If Rev. Hasenstab is re-appointed to work this Fall, it will be his fortieth year as an ordained preacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sullivan, San Diego, Calif., were guests of Mrs. E. E. Carlson for several days. They may remain in Chicago for a month or so. Both attended the Illinois School for the Deaf. They evinced enjoyment of their home town, and the fair, besides.

Mrs. DeSilver, of Cincinnati, O., has been visiting the World's Fair for fifteen days. It was her first trip to Chicago in her life. She has returned to her town.

Alfred E. Arnot went to Indianapolis to attend the funeral of his brother, Grant. He died from pneumonia, October 3d.

It was incorrectly reported in some past column that Addison Reynolds was divorced from his wife. Actually, they were only separated.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ellman still crow over their tiny granddaughter, Lucille. She is gaining weight after being brought to the World's Fair Incubator. The incubator in which the baby is nursed is numbered 6. The grandfather, Mr. John Ellman, is an old charter member of Chicago Division, No. 1.

L. Cherry got on his hands five Boston terrier puppies. The usual interesting question is: how will they be disposed of. Let's hear more about them.

Mrs. Michaelson took care of the baby, belonging to Mrs. Roundtree, for one and a half weeks, as the latter was in the hospital for an operation. She will be back shortly.

Roy Peterson, the younger brother of Oliver Peterson, died from heart trouble, Tuesday, October 5th, in the hospital. His age was thirty-six. Oliver Peterson is known in Chicago for selling eggs on the round: Thursday, south side; Friday, west side, and Saturday, north. Besides this line, he distributes the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL by retail wherever there is a demand on the way.

Chicago Division, No. 1, had its first after-the-meeting social of the season at Corinthian Hall, Capital Building, Friday night, October 7th. The number of card tables thus engaged was not large, but it's probably a prelude of larger crowds to come in the height of winter festivities.

Chicago League of Hebrew Deaf had its first regular meeting in the afternoon, and a card party in the evening at 4750 Broadway, October 8th, Sunday. As heretofore, it gathers the first Sunday of every month.

The old Frat, Mr. Julius Gordon, of Chicago Division, No. 1, is courageously taking up the reins of the annual affair of this club for November 17th, 1934, at Three Links Building, and is entering the ad in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL. Other particulars will be found therein until the date of November 17th. More of this, later.

Silent movies were shown at All Angels' Mission for the Deaf, Wednesday, October 3d, at 8 P.M.

An exceptionally large crowd attended the memorial services held at the same edifice, Sunday, October 7th, at 11 A.M., for the late Mr. Frederick Burdette Wirt, Lay-Reader and Treasurer. It must have cost Rev. Geo. F. Flick a supreme effort to give expression to a just tribute to his memory. Slow and sometimes hesitant, as if to give some thoughtful emphasis to his words, he showed himself much more sincerely heartfelt.
